Who we are

Who is providing this notice? Tocqueville Securities L.P.

What we do

How does Tocqueville protect my personal information? To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. Contracts with our service providers require them (i) to restrict access to your non-public personal information and (ii) to maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards against unintended disclosure.

How does Tocqueville collect my personal information? We collect your personal information, for example, when you

- open an account or enter into an investment advisory contract
- provide account information or give us your contact information
- make a wire transfer

Why can't I limit all sharing? Federal law gives you the right to limit only

- sharing for affiliates' everyday business purposes – information about your creditworthiness
- affiliates from using your information to market to you
- sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you

State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing.
