

FUND STRATEGY

The Fund uses a bottom-up selection process based on fundamental security analysis, and does not try to replicate a benchmark. The approach is contrarian and value oriented. The Fund seeks to find securities that are depressed in price, out of favor with investors, and trading at a substantial discount to intrinsic value. The portfolio manager emphasizes free cash flow generation, balance sheet quality, and the fundamental strength of a business franchise as attributes to identify the most attractive risk/reward propositions across all market capitalizations. The Fund focuses primarily on the securities of U.S. issuers, but frequently invests in non-U.S. issuers. The portfolio will typically contain 60-80 positions.

Performance data quoted represents past performance and does not guarantee future results. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. The performance assumes reinvestment of capital gains and dividends. Fund performance current to the most recent month-end may be lower or higher than the performance quoted and can be obtained by calling 1-800-697-3863 or visiting www.tocquevillefunds.com.

^The Advisor has contractually agreed to waive management fees and/or reimburse expenses in order to ensure that the Fund's expense ratio does not exceed 1.20% (excluding taxes, interest expense, acquired fund fees and expenses, or extraordinary expenses such as litigation) until at least 3/1/2025. In the absence of these fee waivers, total returns would be lower.

QUARTERLY UPDATE

- In the second quarter of 2024, concentration of the S&P500 from a market capitalization weight perspective of the top 10 stocks reached another multi-decade, and earnings contribution, while high, is not quite at the peak. Although interest rate cuts seemed likely recently, inflation has decreased more slowly than hoped and global growth has remained positive. As a result, we believe rate cuts in the near term appear questionable.
- The largest contributing sectors for The Tocqueville Fund (the "Fund") were Information technology, communication services and consumer staples, while consumer discretionary, healthcare and real estate were the weakest. The top individual contributors were NVIDIA, Alphabet, QUALCOMM, Applied Materials and Apple. Shopify, Weyerhaeuser, Disney, Schrodinger, and Toyota were the laggards.
- During the quarter, the Fund purchased Biogen, a biopharmaceutical company focused on neurological disorders such as Multiple Sclerosis, Spinal Muscular Atrophy and Alzheimer's. Its first two Alzheimer's treatments, Aduhelm and Legembi, were disappointments, but other pipeline programs have shown promise, and progress on Alzheimer's treatments could drive shares higher.
- Another purchase in the quarter was Ionis Pharmaceuticals, a biotechnology drug development platform company based on antisense technology. Ionis shares have been weak due to pipeline disappointments. We believe the platform technology is valuable and that, over the next 30 months, multiple drugs will reach the market.
- The Fund also purchased Nintendo, the Japanese gaming company. Nintendo shares had underperformed recently as investors awaited the launch of its new Switch gaming console. Our view is that Nintendo has iconic intellectual property, a fortress balance sheet, strong margins and a great deal of pent-up demand for a new platform that will energize its customers.
- The Fund added to positions in Air Products and Chemicals, Crane, Expedia, Freeport-McMoRan, Nike, Nutrien, Occidental Petroleum, ON Semiconductor, Rocket Lab, Schrodinger, Sony and Weyerhaeuser. Avient, Bank of America, BHP Group Limited, Charles Schwab, Cross Country Healthcare, Dow, Halliburton, Lifecore Biomedical, Palo Alto Networks and Warner Bros. Discovery were sold outright.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

P/E: The weighted average of the price/earnings (P/E) ratios of the equity securities referenced. The P/E ratio is calculated by dividing the current price of the stock by the trailing earnings per share for the past 12 months.

The S&P 500 Index is a market-value weighted index consisting of 500 stocks chosen for market size, liquidity, and industry group representation. You cannot invest directly in an index.

The Russell 1000® Value Index measures the performance of the large-cap value segment of the U.S. equity universe. It includes those Russell 1000® companies with lower price-to-book ratios and lower expected growth values.

The Morningstar Large-Blend Portfolios are fairly representative of the overall U.S. stock market in size, growth rates, and price. Stocks in the top 70% of the capitalization of the U.S. equity market are defined as large-cap. The blend style is assigned to portfolios where neither growth nor value characteristics predominate.

DISCLOSURES

Mutual Fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its investment objective. The Tocqueville Fund is subject to the following risks: the price of equity securities may rise or fall because of changes in the broad market or changes in a company's financial condition, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably; a stock or stocks selected for the Fund's portfolio may fail to perform as expected; a value stock may decrease in price or may not increase in price as anticipated by the portfolio manager if other investors fail to recognize the company's value or the factors that the portfolio manager believes will cause the stock price to increase do not occur; and the Fund may, from time to time, focus its investments in specific market sectors. Other risks may include: investments in smaller capitalized companies, which involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility; and investments in foreign securities which involve greater volatility and political, economic and currency risks and differences in accounting methods. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.
